Approved For Release 2004/01/16: CIA-RDP75-00149R000500380002-7

Fulbright Gets to Attend CIA's Senate Briefing

With Senate Foreign Relations this can be given and taken Committee members attending away. It would be more desirator the first time, the Senate's ble if formal action were taken CIA watchdog committee has by the Senate to establish the received a top-secret intelli- right of the Foreign Relations gence briefing on world affairs Committee to information about and particularly the Victnamese operations of the CIA." war.

rector Richard Helms gave .... briefing, under tight security, in the Senate Armed Services Committee hearing room yesterday. The meeting lasted from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Russell, D-Ga., who heads the CIA panel, said the briefings covered "the waterfront." But he added that it was all highly elassified and nothing could be revealed.

In what may be the end of a long-standing controversy, Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., and two other members of the Foreign Relations Committee attended the meeting at Russell's invitation.

Information Sought

of the Foreign Members Relations Committee have been eontend they should have it mittee. because the CIA often involves itself in foreign policy matters.

After the meeting, Fulbright said it was "too soon to say" whether the arrangement would satisfy his committee.

Others from the Foreign Relations Committee who were invited and attended the briefing were Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, the ranking Republican member, and Senate! Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who is third in seniority on the Democratic

Not included was Sen. Eugene MeCarthy, D-Minn., who sponsored a resolution last year that would have set up a nine-member intelligence committee, made up of three representatives each from the Appropriations, Armed Services and .. Foreign relations committees. As for yesterday's meeting, Me-Carthy said:

"This is substance of what we are asking for. There remains, however, a question of whether

May Be Permanent

Russell was asked if participation by members of the Foreign Relations group would be permanent and replied that it would Afterward, Sen. Richard B. be "as far as I can see at the ussell. D-Ga. who heads the Mansfield said he was invited because of his leadership position and added that he understood Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois also would be asked to attend.

Russell, however, said the three senators were invited because they were on the Foreign Relations Committee. Since Dirksen is not a member of that committee, the Georgia senator. said he had not been asked to

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.Dak., was added to the watchdog demanding access to informa-tion on CIA operations. They ing the appropriations subcomSTAT.